STAPLE INN, OLD HOUSES, HOLBORN.

Opposite Gray's Inn Road. A quaint and picturesque old inn of Chancery—celebrated by Charles Dickens. The hall has been recently restored. Dr. Johnson wrote "Rasselas" here. In the rear is Southampton Buildings in which is situated the Government Patent Office.

The London Stereoscopic Company's "LESCO" Series.
Printed at their Works in England.

Dear Sir,

In friendly remem.

Yours sincerely

Arnold
